World Telecommunication and Information Society Day 2018 (WTISD 2018)

Enabling the positive use of Artificial Intelligence for All

Message from ITU Secretary-General, Houlin Zhao

Every year on May 17, ITU Members around the world celebrate World Telecommunication and Information Society Day.

Artificial Intelligence, or AI, is taking center stage with a lot of impact on people's lives. AI's potential power is being exploited and developed at an unprecedented speed. AI brings us many opportunities and challenges. AI will greatly change our economy and society.

ITU, in its role of Specialized UN Agency for ICT services and technologies, wishes to work with Academia, researchers, industries, Administrations and Governments, UN Agencies, as well as other stakeholders and partners, to facilitate the AI development, to bring the benefits of AI to all.

ITU invites you to join us to celebrate WTISD 2018!
